BALLET NEBRASKA'S 'MOMENTUM' CELEBRATES SPRING WITH SPARKLING DANCE

OMAHA -- Scandinavian charm, swinging elegance, and humor will come together in April in Momentum, Ballet Nebraska's annual mixed-repertory production, artistic director Erika Overturff said.

"The wonderful thing about mixed repertory is that it introduces audiences to a variety of dance styles," Overturff said. "I chose this program to include diverse, high-quality works that offer something to entertain everyone."

Highlights of Momentum are:

Bournonville Divertissements — This compilation of selections by 19th-century Danish master choreographer August Bournonville was staged for Ballet Nebraska by former New York City Ballet principal dancer Nilas Martins, Overturff said. Martins also staged the New York City Ballet's most recent production of Bournonville Divertissements, Overturff said.

"Bournonville's work with the Royal Danish Ballet was hugely influential," Overturff said. "He developed an aesthetic of ballet that was completely his own, one that emphasized natural grace, buoyant jumps, and light, exuberant footwork. It's challenging but rewarding to dance, and absolutely charming to watch."

Ballet Nebraska is presenting the work in conjunction with Joslyn Art Museum in celebration of its European collection, she said.

DanceSport — First seen by Ballet Nebraska audiences in 2012, DanceSport is one of the best-known and funniest creations of Chicago-based master choreographer and showman Harrison McEldowney, Overturff said.

“Dancers are often compared to athletes, and Harrison decided to push that comparison to the limit,” Overturff said. “He turns ballet into a sports event, complete with uniforms, a referee, instant replays, penalties, and hilarious play-by-play commentary.”

Ella — Overturff described her ballet Ella as an elegant tribute to the music of legendary jazz singer Ella Fitzgerald, often called “America’s First Lady of Song.”

Rounding out the program will be three other short works: Blackbird, a solo Overturff created; ballet master Matthew Carter’s Transcription; and the “Medora” variation from Marius Petipa’s 19th-century ballet Le Corsaire.

Short videos by Omaha filmmaker Lance Glenn will introduce several of the works, Overturff said. “These video introductions provide background and context, and have been popular with audiences whenever we’ve done them,” she said. “They’ll help make Momentum an even more memorable experience.”

Performances of Momentum will be at 7:30 pm Saturday, April 1, at Joslyn Art Museum, and 7:30 pm Saturday, April 8, at the Iowa Western Arts Center in Council Bluffs. Tickets for the Joslyn performance are available from Ticket Omaha (402-345-0606, or online at ticketomaha.com.) Tickets for the Arts Center performance are available from the Arts Center box office (712-388-7140, or online at artscenter.iwcc.edu.) More information is available from balletnebraska.org.

Ballet Nebraska is the region's professional dance company. Momentum is presented with major support from the Iowa West Foundation, the Fred and Eve Simon Charitable Foundation, and the Richard Brooke Foundation, with additional support from Cindy and Scott Heider, Douglas County, the Nebraska Arts Council, and the Nebraska Cultural Endowment.
